

North Carolina Helene Recovery

Jan. 6, 2025

Key Messages

FEMA’s Transitional Sheltering Assistance program is providing hotel rooms to thousands of Western North Carolina survivors of Tropical Storm Helene. On Jan. 3, FEMA began notifications to families checked into hotel or motel rooms who are no longer eligible for the program because of any of the following reasons:

- An inspection indicated their home is now habitable.
- They declined an inspection.
- FEMA has been unable to contact the applicant to update their housing needs, despite multiple attempts.

Transitional Sheltering Assistance

FEMA pays the room and tax costs at participating hotels for disaster survivors.

It’s important for survivors to keep in touch with FEMA, provide regular updates on housing status and update contact information so your recovery process is not delayed.

By the Numbers

- $298 million approved to 143,000+ households and individuals beginning their recovery. That includes money to help rent a home or apartment as survivors begin their recovery.
- $309 million in Public Assistance funding approved to support community recovery.
- The U.S. Small Business Administration is still accepting low-interest loan applications. To date more than 10,500 loan applications have been received, with 2,658 approved for more than $195 million. Of that, $39.9 million in low-interest disaster loans have been paid directly to North Carolina survivors.

FEMA

- FEMA is providing multiple temporary housing options to meet North Carolinians' individual needs. The first step to receiving housing assistance is applying with FEMA.
 - More than 5,600 households are using Transitional Sheltering Assistance hotels and motels.
 - 93 households have been placed in temporary housing units provided by FEMA Direct Temporary Housing Assistance.
 - FEMA has contracted with 18 commercial parks to be able to place units and the agency is working with 16 other parks for potential contracting purposes.
- More than 2.5 million cubic yards of debris has been removed from public rights of way by FEMA and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and contractors.
- More than $46.7 million in federal unemployment benefits have been provided to more than 6,400 survivors. For more information, call the unemployment assistance hotline at 919-629-3857 (for Spanish call 919-276-5698).

FEMA and Nonprofit Organizations Working to Repair or Replace Private Roads or Bridges

FEMA may be able to help pay for a road or bridge on private property when it is the only route available to reach your primary home or it is the only access for emergency vehicles. Call the FEMA Helpline or visit a Disaster Recovery Center to update your application. Nonprofit organizations are also assisting residents. More information on their efforts can be found at Bridging Together Idrcarolinas.org/bridging-together

To date, FEMA has awarded more than $10 million for repair or replacement of roads and bridges to more than 3,800 families.

Crisis Counseling, Mental Health Resources Available for Helene Survivors

- The North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services' Hope4NC Crisis Counseling Program provides immediate support and crisis counseling services for North Carolinians following Helene. Survivors experiencing stress, emotional fatigue, a mental health crisis or just need someone to talk to, can call the Hope4NC Helpline 24/7 at 855-587-3463. Services are free and available to anyone in the declared 39 North Carolina counties and tribal members of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians.
- Additionally, the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's Disaster Distress Helpline is available anytime to provide support. Survivors and responders feeling overwhelmed can call or text 800-985-5990 to receive free, confidential support in any language.

Read Your FEMA Letter Carefully

- If you applied for assistance, you will receive a letter explaining your application status. If you are not currently approved for assistance, you may need to send additional documentation to FEMA. You can easily upload documents to Disasterassistance.gov or submit them at a Disaster Recovery Center.
